Capital Business Solutions Announces Expanded Website with Dynamic Web Seminar and User Workshop Calendar

Wednesday, June 10, 2009

Raleigh, North Carolina - Capital Business Solutions (<http://www.capitalbusiness.net>), a leading provider of nonprofit software solutions including Sage's award-winning Sage MIP Fund Accounting, today announced the launch of their redesigned and search-optimized website. The website, developed by Hall Web Services, a Sage Preferred Vendor, widens the site design, incorporates new offer elements for prospective customers and adds a manageable web-based calendar of upcoming web seminars and user workshops.

"Capital Business Solutions wanted to increase their exposure among nonprofits in their geographic area, and we've worked to do this by integrating SEO best practices in the new website," said Fred Greenhalgh, Internet Marketing Manager at Hall. "In addition to the search efforts, the new site offers more resources than before targeted towards non-profit organizations to help them learn about the different software products that Capital Business Solutions offers."

One of the key new features is the dynamic web seminar and user workshop calendar, which Capital Business Solutions staff will be able to manage using a web-based interface. Website visitors interested in attending a workshop or seminar will be able to fill out a registration online and be automatically enrolled for attendance. The site also features a newsroom powered by RSS feeds supplied by Zift Solutions.

With more resources than ever and easier methods of learning about and attending upcoming events, Capital Business Solutions looks forward to providing more valuable resources to nonprofits in the Southeast and Midwest areas. Learn more at <http://www.capitalbusiness.net>.
