Hall Marks 10-Years in Business with Anniversary Party

April 22, 2009

Portland, Maine – Hall Web Services, a Maine web design and internet marketing firm, celebrated their ten-year anniversary with a party held at their office on Riverside St. in Portland, Maine. Over 100 people attended the event, consisting of a crowd of friends, family, clients, and vendors.

During the time Hall has been in business, the company has seen the rise and fall of the dot com era, the mainstream adoption of broadband, and the rapid explosion of social media. Hall has continued to grow and adapt thanks to a customer-centric model and a flexible and expanding range of services, which today include web design, web hosting, web development, internet marketing, email marketing, and inbound marketing. Hall has experienced an average yearly growth of 40% and now employs 13 staff members in internet marketing, web development, email marketing, social network marketing and multimedia roles.

"We've learned a lot during the last ten years and hope to learn a lot more in the next ten," said Tom Hall, President and CEO of Hall. "We have many customers to thank for our success as well as an excellent staff, and look forward to continuing to help our customers grow using the web."

Even during the current economic downturn, Hall has continued to grow due to high demand for internet marketing, social network marketing and web development services, as well as their commitment to fostering strong relationships with existing customers. Hall recently expanded to their current 4600 sq. ft. facility on Riverside St in Portland, Maine and has added six new staff members in 2009.

The event featured a raffle of items provided by Hall clients, including products and services donated by Rubb Building Systems, Sudzie Autowash, furniturea, Earrings & Company, ReVision Energy, the Rob Swain Sailing School, AU (Accessories Unlimited), the Prep Kitchen, and Inbox Marketing. Costa Vida fresh Mexican grill also contributed with gift certificate and t-shirt donations. Money collected from the raffle was donated to the non-profit Sexual Abuse Response Services of Southern Maine (SARSSM), a longtime partner in Hall's charitable giving program.

"We look forward to another ten years and beyond," Tom Hall, continued. "We will continue to focus on our customers and innovate so that our services remain effective no matter how technology changes."
