

Hall Internet Marketing Receives Governor's Award for Business Excellence

Hall Internet Marketing was honored today as a recipient of the Maine Governor's Award for Business Excellence. The award is given annually to companies that exemplify a steadfast commitment to their employees, customers and the community.

Vice President of Operations, Jonas Levasseur and the President and Founder of Hall Internet Marketing, Tom Hall, were on hand to receive the award. "We are very proud to be recognized by the Governor and the State of Maine," said Hall. "We are having a great year with significant top-line and bottom-line growth, but I am most proud of the people we have on staff - the team we have assembled here - they are the driving force behind the innovation that we are delivering on the national stage."

This is not the first time that the 15 year old, full service internet marketing agency has been recognized for its exemplary business practices. Just last month Hall received its fourth straight Best Places to Work in Maine Award. When asked about the significance of their recent recognitions, Hall Director of Digital Marketing, Rachel Bowes said, "As a company, we are dedicated to innovation and investment in our Maine community. We are incredibly proud and humbled that our efforts are being recognized."

Since 1991 the Governor's Award for Business Excellence has been awarded to 128 Maine businesses for their positive contributions to the economic prosperity of their communities and for making Maine a better place to live. Recipients must be nominated for the award then contributions to local communities and to employees are weighed alongside the quality of service provided. Previous recipients of the award include L.L. Bean, WEX Inc., TD Bank North, Auburn Manufacturing Inc., and The Jackson Laboratory.
